Talk of the Town

Members of Harbor Light Chapter, O. E. S. of Rockport will visit Golden Rod Chapter this Friday evening. The Bangor Chapter is unable to come owing to its inability to arrange suitable transportation.

This city is confronted with an ice famine. One dealer's supply is entirely exhausted, and another is working on the bottom layer. It has been a great season for the ice-dealers, who will probably increase their cut next winter in consequence.

If you are going to the Portland Festival next month and want the most comfort during your stay, you will of course put up at the Falmouth Hotel. Better order your room now. Apply to W. O. Fuller, Jr., or leave your order at The Courier-Gazette office.

C. O. Rokes of Thomaston, who sells milk and cream in this city, says that he has been hauling water for his cattle since June 17. "I suppose the weather man's all right, but I would like to have a talk with him," said Mr. Rokes. Hundreds of farmers throughout the county probably have the same idea in their heads.

DR. SALIE the Eye Specialist of Portland, will be at the Thordike Hotel, October 1 and 2. Office hours, 9 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5, and 7 to 9 p. m.

HERALD RANGES

This is the beginning of our Fall advertising campaign.

We shall not mention this week, the many wonderful features of the Herald Ranges, as we only wish to acquaint you with the Herald Line.

This is one of the very oldest ranges on the market today. Throughout New England and New York it holds highest place. The guarantee that goes with this range is the strongest given with any range on the market.

We have handled Herald Ranges exclusively for nearly 20 years, having sold hundreds in Knox County, and never have we made a dissatisfied customer, each range being his own advertisement. Last, but not least, the price is low. Just come in and look them over.

Two launching parties, numbering 160 persons, dined at Crescent Beach Thursday noon. Smith handled the big crowd in approved style.

The Rockland high school football team plays Morse High School Saturday. It goes to the Shipyard City with a high degree of confidence as the result of its victory over Edward Little High of Auburn.

There will be a song service at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. Dr. R. W. Bickford will be the leader and the solo singer will be Miss Georgia Brewer. The meeting commences at 4 o'clock as usual.

The Rebekahs will have a special meeting this Friday evening at 7 o'clock. As the Encampment has its regular meeting this night the Rebekahs will see the importance of being on deck at 7 o'clock sharp.

Union street is being re-macadamized between Park and Myrtle streets, after ideas of Commissioner McNamara's own conception. The highway gets a very severe test in that locality and the improvement, which promises to be a good one, is much needed.

The Pleasant Valley Grange fair isn't next week, but it's the week after, and how is the time for exhibitors and prospective patrons to make their plans. Baby show Tuesday, dog show Wednesday and drawing of horses and oxen Thursday. That's an abstract of the program.

H. F. Howard, the New Hampshire contractor, began work this morning on the Lincoln street concrete walk. Up to the time of our going to press Mayor Thompson had issued no call for troops, although John Berry, Joe Brazier and Frank Alden are back from Union fair with their ears to the ground.

The Men's League supper at Smith's Wednesday evening was enjoyed by some 30 persons. Counter attractions and absence from the city caused the small attendance, but those present declared the supper couldn't be surpassed. The next meeting is to be held Oct. 21, when Dr. McArthur lectures here.

The Young Fellers tackled the O'D Timers at candle pins at the City Bowl. They played Thursday night, and not only lost four strings out of the five, but lost the game by 62 pins. There wasn't any big rolling, Barnard being high line with 445. Otto was close behind with 437. The totals were: O'D Timers, 2112; Young Fellers, 2030.

An automobile containing four men ran over and instantly killed a valuable dog on Camden street Tuesday about 5 o'clock. Had they even stopped and expressed their sympathy, to say the least, it would have appeared a little more humane and like gentlemen, especially as a child of the family owning the dog was an eye-witness to the affair. The dog was licensed and wearing a collar.

Two well known young business men settled a dispute out of court in front of a Main street fruit and confectionery store Tuesday afternoon. Although no black eyes were administered, blood flowed quite freely and both combatants admitted they had their fill. The proprietor of the fruit store was awarded nominal damages of 60 cents for loss on his stock of pears which came into too close proximity to the one of the delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention held here last week. Mrs. Jennie Ames Sylvester of Wintthrop, who has the distinction, she thinks, of being the only woman in Maine who owns and operates a job printing office. She does all parts of the work, from setting the type to "kicking" the press, and her work goes to several foreign countries, as well as into every state in this country. Mrs. Sylvester favored The Courier-Gazette with a call, as she always likes to meet those of her craft.

MRS. EUGENE HARRINGTON.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Eugene Harrington were held in St. Bernard's church Sept. 16 in the presence of a large gathering of sorrowing friends and relatives. The celebrant of the solemn requiem high mass was the pastor of the church, Rev. Fr. Flynn. Rev. Fr. Burns of Lowell, Mass. acted as deacon. Rev. Fr. Prendergast of Blackstone, Mass., as sub-deacon and Rev. Fr. Farley of this city as master of ceremonies. Among those who also participated in the service was Rev. W. P. Phelan of Bath, who was pastor of the church during many years of Mrs. Harrington's membership. The pastor delivered an eloquent and touching eulogy. The interment was in the Catholic cemetery at Thomaston, Rev. Fr. Phelan assisting Mrs. Burns and Prendergast there. Among those who came from away to attend the services were Mrs. William Prendergast of Jefferson, Mass., John Lyons of Jersey City, N. J., a brother of the deceased, and Misses Sarah McNelis and Josephine Snow of Bath. Margaret Elizabeth, wife of Eugene Harrington, was born in this city 41 years ago. Of their union came five children, who with the bereaved husband, have the deepest sympathy of all their friends. During her illness of consumption knowing that the end was rapidly approaching the dominating spirit of the wife and mother was one of extreme grief at the knowledge she must be parted from her loved ones. She was a woman of lovable, Christian character whose taking away is a deep blow to the whole community.

The forest fires which were raging in Knox county a few days ago are now well under control, but the county has been under a heavy pall of smoke through which the sun looked like a blood orange. It would be difficult to estimate the loss which woodland property has sustained, but aside from that the damage has been very slight—to wit, one small cottage belonging to Cleveland Sleeper of Boston and located at Otter Point, South Thomaston. The houses at the Keag, which caught fire during the conflagration at Big Landing were those of Fred Whinnam, Robert Williams, Nathan Cousins and George Stanton. A hole was burned in the roof of the Cousins cottage, but the damage to the others was very slight thanks to eternal vigilance and the efforts of the men who hauled water from the M. T. Jameson quarry with which to fight the enemy. Several houses also caught fire at Vinahaven, but none was burned. Forest fires have been raging all over the state for some weeks, and all over the country, for that matter. As some are previously remarked, we need rain.

Interesting Corset Event

WE knew the women of Rockland would feel the importance of attending our Grand Exploitation Sale and Exposition of Gossard Corsets.

But we were not prepared for the unusual interest they have shown. They have found out for themselves the special distinctive points of the Gossard Corsets, and they are many.

No woman can really know without seeing the Gossard Corset just how perfectly this easily-adjustable, front-lacing corset adapts itself to every movement of a woman's figure, and, still, how it improves her figure.

THE
CORSETS

are the only corsets that absolutely conform to the arch of the spine—thus insuring the fashionable habit back with side and front lines in perfect artistic harmony.

The Gossard has special advantage in the graceful slope and snug hip-fitting effect—producing the long, willowy outlines of girlhood, even in the mature.

It avoids the well known disadvantages of back-lacing corsets. There are no steels to irritate, no rivets to tear the flesh, no unsightly and unpleasant bunches of strings in the back.

The Gossard laces, as it should, in the front. There the lacing is soft and comfortable, while the spine, instead of being irritated, is supported. Free play is given to the vital organs, deep breathing is permitted and full comfort enjoyed.

Dressmakers everywhere favor the Gossard Corset, because it gives them perfect figures to fit. Physicians prescribe the Gossard Corset, because it is positively hygienic.

Be sure to come in before the week is done. We want you to know Miss Harpole just what the Gossard will do for you.

May we expect you?

WE want her to demonstrate to you

PULLEN-PEASE

A notable wedding took place on Thursday evening, Sept. 17, at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. James Pease, North Hope, at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Mr. Laird of the Methodist church, Camden.

The contracting parties were Charles C. Pullen of Camden and Miss Lucia Merrill Pease of Hope. The wedding march was played by Mrs. L. M. Gushoe of Appleton, the bride party took their positions beneath an arch of evergreen and white.

Two sweet little girls, Freda Gushoe, niece of the bride, and Florence Currier, niece of the groom, were bridesmaids, proceeded the bride and Mr. Pullen took their places while Rev. Mr. Laird in a most pleasing manner performed the ceremony with the double ring. The bride looked charming in a dress of lace net over white silk with lace and insertion trimmings, and carried a large bouquet of white and pink asters. Hearty congratulations followed, with showers of rice and confetti, after which a social hour was passed in merriment and discussing a lunch of ices and cake served by Mrs. Pullen's pupils, the Misses Nina Pease, Jennie Hall, Verena Pease and Ethel Morse. Miss Cora Pullen, sister of the groom, served fruit punch. The wedding cake and cigars were passed about while the bride was engaged in changing her bridal dress to a traveling suit of smoked gray, with hat of white chenille trimmed with ribbons and plumes.

After many trials the pair at last eluded the vigilant watching of their guests and left for parts unknown. They will receive friends at their new home on Mountain street, Camden, after October 15.

The decorations were beautiful and under the management of Mrs. L. M. Conant and Mrs. Ellen Conant of Rockland and Mrs. J. D. Pease. The yard in front of the house was lighted with Japanese lanterns, while the parlor was completely banked with evergreens, white asters and cut flowers. A SURPRISED MINISTER

Hyemel Cured Bronchial Catarrh After He had Given Up in Despair.

"For many years I have been a sufferer from bronchial catarrh, and had despaired of anything like a cure. Judge of my surprise when I first used Hyemel, which brought complete relief. Hyemel has been a veritable godsend."—Rev. Charles Hartley, Sardinia, Ohio.

There are many readers of The Courier-Gazette who are suffering from catarrh, either nasal or bronchial. Many of these despair of ever being cured. They have soaked their stomachs with nostrums until they are disgusted with all medicines, and are now traveling the miserable way, allowing the devilish germs of catarrh to sweep them of their health, energy and vitality.

But let us reason together. C. H. Hyemel, druggist and optician, and Wm. H. Kittredge, druggist, have a guaranteed remedy for catarrh, colds, coughs, bronchitis, croup, and all inflammatory diseases of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. The name of this remarkable remedy is Hyemel, and if it does not cure you, Kittredge, druggist and optician, or Wm. H. Kittredge, druggist, will give you your money back.

Hyemel (pronounced High-o-m) is medicated so that you just breathe it through the inhaler over the inflamed and germ ridden membrane, and its soothing antiseptic properties will allay the inflammation, destroy the germs, and restore the entire respiratory tract to its normal condition.

A complete Hyemel outfit, including a hard rubber inhaler, costs but $1.00, and an extra bottle of Hyemel, if after several doses, costs but 50 cents. See C. H. Pendleton, druggist and optician, or Wm. H. Kittredge, druggist, about it today.

THE WELD THAT HELD

ONE OF THE BEST.

Was the Fourth Annual Sunday School Convention At Thomaston.

More than 100 delegates were in attendance when the first session of the Knox County Sunday School Convention was called to order in the Congregational church at Thomaston Friday. Many others arrived in due season and it is estimated that the convention had a total attendance of about 150. The weather was first-class and the delegates manifested a great deal of interest and enthusiasm.

The devotional service at 9:30 a. m. was led by Rev. H. S. Kilborn of Warren. The delegates to the fourth annual convention were cordially welcomed by Rev. E. M. Cousins, pastor of the entertaining church.

Before proceeding to the enjoyment of the spiritual and literary treat afforded by the program, the convention held its business meeting. The statistical report presented by Miss Myra Hill, secretary, showed 46 Sunday schools in the county, which had reported. They have a combined membership of about 3500, and their average attendance during the year was 1200. The following committee on nominations was appointed: Rev. C. E. Emory, St. George; Mrs. Nettie Gould, Camden; and Rev. E. H. Chapin. This committee subsequently reported the following list of officers, who were elected:

Frank P. Seavey, Warren, president; Rev. Henry Jones, Camden, vice president; Mrs. Anna Starrett, Warren, secretary; Miss Ella K. Gilchrist, Thomaston, treasurer; Miss Elizabeth Conant, Camden, superintendent of teacher training; Mrs. A. E. Bradford, Union, superintendent of home department; Mrs. Mary Locke of Warren, superintendent of primary work; Rev. E. H. Chapin of Rockland, superintendent of church work. It was voted to send a delegate to the state convention in Bangor next month, and President Seavey was elected in that capacity.

Greetings were received from the State W. C. T. U. convention, in session at Rockland, and a suitable reply was sent.

A conference of workers was held by H. E. Lufkin, general secretary. Organization of districts and county was discussed. This county is to have five districts, only two of which are thus far organized. Dr. Plummer of Union has charge of one and Mrs. Lock's of Warren has charge of the other.

"The Relation of the Sunday School to the Public School" was an interesting and profitable thought. It was delivered by Rev. C. H. B. Seiger. One of the best addresses of the convention was that delivered by Rev. E. H. Chapin. His subject was "Men and the Sunday School." The morning session closed with an interesting paper on primary work by Mrs. Birtina Shepherd.

The afternoon session opened with a praise service conducted by Rev. Albert Hart of Rockport and Rev. I. H. Lidstone. Charles D. Meigs of Indianapolis, who was a special guest of the convention, conducted a conference of round table questions.

"Making Teachers" - Why - What - How. Secretary Lufkin discussed this important phase of Sunday School work in his address. He was followed by Rev. E. H. Chapin. "The Sunday School in the 20th Century" was the subject of a very fine address by Rev. I. H. Lidstone of Union, without whom a convention of this kind would scarcely be a success.

Rev. Robert Sutcliffe was another Rockland pastor who addressed the convention, and the delegates heard something fine from him under the topic of "The Fighting Spirit." Mr. Meigs' afternoon talk pertained to the Home Department.

In the evening before a large congregation addresses of an elaborate character were delivered by Rev. Mr. Hart and Mr. Meigs. "How to fish for men and women and get them into the Sunday school" was the subject chosen by Mr. Meigs. He is not only a most expert fisherman himself, but a success rate most graphically his experiences as a fisher of mankind. His presence at the convention contributed greatly to the success.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress street Chicago, tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. IN SUPREME COURT

Arthur, Willey Faces Jury In Supreme Court Charged With Causing Death of William E. Pinkham at Port Clyde.

While so far this has not been a busy term for the jury men of the Supreme Court recently made a rule that no civil case should remain dormant on the docket for longer than two years unless good cause be shown.

Following this rule Judge Savage has had this entry "dismissed for want of prosecution" made in the following cases:

W. V. Lane v. Charles H. Lewis et al., and the Camden Land Co. Littlefield; Robinson.

W. O. Abbott v. Daniel Doherty and Cornelius Doherty, Beaton; Howard.

John W. Taylor, libt. v. Sarah C. Taylor, Howard.

Ida J. Peavey, libt. v. Walter L. Peavey, Howard.

Minnie M. Gross, libt. v. Melvin J. Gross, Montgomery.

N. W. Thompson v. F. E. Mank, Thompson; Gulliver.

several of South Thomaston, said that prior to the building of the State road opposite the Hurley house there was always a bad bog in the road in the spring of the year. G. C. Putnam, assessor of South Thomaston from 1901-1906, thought the house was worth from $400 to $500 before the change in the highway and that he would give more for it now. A. O. Glover, assessor in 1904, placed a value of $500 on the property before raising the road level and thought it was now worth from $300 to $400.

Harriet A. Thordike versus Althea Thordike, Executrix. This is an action in assumption on two promissory notes each for $200, one note being dated March 15, 1878, and the other April 22, 1882. The notes are payable to the plaintiff and purport to be signed by William Thordike, father of the plaintiff and Isaac Thordike, the late husband of the defendant. It is claimed that the notes were witnessed by Chloe Thordike, the wife of William Thordike, and would, therefore, run for twenty years before the statute of limitation could be set up in defense.

All the parties to the notes in question are now dead excepting the plaintiff. The plaintiff contends that while more than twenty years have elapsed since the notes were given still they are not out of date, or barred by the statute of limitation, because in 1901 the late Isaac Thordike loaned to the plaintiff $10, and afterwards told her to keep the money and apply it on the notes. This she did but did not endorse the payments on the notes until shortly before the suit was brought some six months ago. She claims that this payment renews the notes and that the notes are now valid claims against Isaac N. Thordike's estate.

The defense claims that the notes were long since outlawed, that the first note was not signed by the defendant's testator and that while the name of Chloe Thordike appears as a witness upon each of the notes it is not in fact her signature, and further that if all the signatures are genuine and the notes properly witnessed still the defendant is not liable. The fact that the plaintiff some six months ago endorsed a payment of $10 upon the notes does not renew the notes for at the time the payment was made Isaac N. Thordike never intended that the same should be applied on the notes. Verdict for the defendant. A. S. Littlefield for the plaintiff. R. I. Thompson for the defendant.

Patrick Maloney versus A. S. Littlefield, Receivers of the Rockland, South Thomaston & Oves' Hill Railway. This is an action of trespass in which the plaintiff sets up the unlawful taking, occupancy and use of his land by the receivers in running the cars of the company across his farm. There is also another suit by the same parties covering a part of the same matter. The land in question has been used by the defendant railroad for a number of years and no compensation paid for the use of the land. It is alleged that the plaintiff has been made to effect a settlement. Wednesday morning, just before opening the case to a jury, the parties conferred and made an adjustment. It is understood that the amount to be paid is $500 and in each case the entry, "neither party, no future action," is to be made. This entry ends the whole matter. D. N. Mortland for the plaintiff; A. S. Littlefield, J. E. Moore and S. T. Kimball for the defendants.

William F. Beverage versus Town of Rockport. C. T. Smalley and M. A. Johnson for plaintiff; A. S. Littlefield for defendant. Action to recover $5000 damages on account of injuries received by plaintiff on the evening of August 18, 1907, by reason of an alleged defect in the highway leading from Rockport to Simonton. At this time Melvin Bouge accused George Thordike of being responsible for the defect in the highway. To do the work a derrick had been erected near the stream which was secured by wire guys attached to the ground to anchorages. At this place the New Road leading from Rockport to Simonton forms a junction with the Old Road near the bridge. The plaintiff had driven out by the New Road to a point near the bridge when he saw a lantern hanging up by the bridge and discovered that it was being repaired and could not be crossed. He then made a swing across the narrow gauge lumberco railroad track and started to go back by the Old Road. He claims that after making the turn and getting on to the river road and while driving at a walk his carriage came in contact with the eastern derrick guy which was attached to the railroad track and was thrown violently from his carriage upon the ground. He claims the guy was anchored within the limits of the highway and was too far away to be seen by the light of the lantern.

The plaintiff was shortly after taken to Dr. Shorkley's office in Camden for treatment. Dr. Shorkley stated that he found a gash in the plaintiff's chin, penetrating through the lower lip, minor cuts on the hands, three broken ribs on the right side and many bruises, the right shoulder severely injured and there was much spitting of blood showing internal injuries. The patient was in such a condition of collapse that it was necessary to administer stimulants. He treated him from

Aug. 18 to Oct. 4. In his opinion he would never be able to do hard manual labor again.

The defense makes no denial of the injuries received but claims that the plaintiff by his own negligence was responsible for the accident and no one else; that it was a physical impossibility to be injured as the plaintiff claims by driving at a walk under the guy; that the plaintiff was out of the road when he was thrown out and the wagon was hauled under the guy as an after thought; that the guy or its anchorage was not in the highway and that the plaintiff used reasonable and ordinary care he could have seen the road or any possible obstructions, as it was a bright moonlight night.

As The Courier-Gazette goes to press this Friday forenoon Arthur Willey of St. George is being brought before the jury on the charge of manslaughter. Together with Ralph Gilmore of St. George he is alleged to have caused the death of William E. Pinkham at Port Clyde fishermen on the afternoon of July 3. The first trial is expected to last about two days. The Gilmore trial will follow.

Court will probably adjourn next Wednesday, but may conclude on the day previous.

Union's Great Fair.

When the managers of the North Knox fair at Union counted up the proceeds Wednesday night they found that it had been the biggest day in the history of that thriving institution. A conservative estimate placed the attendance between 6000 and 7000.

During the height of the day there were fully 800 teams on the grounds or in the immediate vicinity. Included in this list were many buckboards or other large wagons seating upward of a dozen persons. These vehicles bore the dust of many townships in a radius of 20 or 25 miles, but in spite of the discomforts attending such a long ride under the present conditions the occupants appeared to be enjoying life to the utmost. With some of them it was the one red-letter day on the year's calendar; with all of them it was a day to be remembered.

Dust! Say, what do city folks know about dust anyhow? Folks who live on street-sprinkled thoroughfares, or who have the necessary hose with which to wet down the road every time a wagon passes—what do they know about the drouth-struck highways of the back country where the dust is deeper now than the mud is in springtime. Imagine if you can the spectacular effect of 800 wagons passing your house twice in one day under such conditions, to say nothing of automobiles the greatest dust disturbers in christendom.

Rockland's Wednesday contribution to the Union fair this year was 225 who went by rail and probably as many more who went by wheel. The double launch in this city on Thursday must have proven a strong counter attraction, for only 25 Union tickets were sold at the Maine Central depot. In this connection it is interesting to note that the largest number who have ever gone to Union fair by rail, from Rockland, was 335. The day was Wednesday, 1906.

Without giving more space than we are able to devote it would be impossible to give an adequate description of the fair in less than four or five columns. Suffice it to say that every department had a most creditable display, which was proportionally better than that found at some of the big fairs throughout the state.

In the upper hall was seen an especially fine fruit and vegetable exhibit—no large but "the pick of the mine." Carl W. Mitchell of Union showed 10 varieties of apples, the most noticeable of which were a peck measure of Wolfe Rivers, some of which measured 14 inches in circumference. In all Knox county apples it is doubtful if there can be found the equal of this fruit in point of size beauty and perfection. In the orchard of Mr. Mitchell's father there are 500 fine trees, including 21 which bear Wolfe Rivers. Last winter Mr. Mitchell sold to the Boston market at a rate ranging from $2.15 to $4.35 per barrel. Prices are quoted lower this fall, however, in spite of the fact that there is only about one-third of a full apple crop in this section.

T. Burgess Union also showed some fine Wolfe Rivers and F. H. Lent, president of Union had a noticeable apple exhibit. A fine potato exhibit was that of J. H. Bowly of Union. J. F. Taylor of Appleton exhibited three large pumpkins which were grown together on one vine within a few inches of each other. Llewellyn Mank of North Water took the cake on his 125-pound Mammoth White squash. Thrifty housewives can indulge in little luxuries as to how many pies could be manufactured from this king of the garden.

Bert Mitchell of Appleton showed a large watermelon which looked just as though it was being cut from some vine south of Mason and Dixon's line.

The midway was rather mild this year, due to the fact that the management would permit no form of gambling whatever. This was a great disappointment to certain sportsy rustic who felt homesick going to Union fair and not having a chance to pass their season's earnings over to a smooth-tongued chap who operates the midway. The tin-type man was allowed to continue, although he ran a game a chance—with his camera.

The races Wednesday were a rifle to the shooting and a little better to the arrival of one of the judges, Hon. S. J. Gushue, who either tarried long at the dinner table or got caught in a political argument. The stand was in charge of the following officials: F. M. Simmons, Rockland, starter; Mansey Nichols, Augusta, and S. J. Gushue, Appleton, judges; A. T. Blackington, Rockland, Elmer S. Bird, Rockland, and A. L. Jones, Union, timers; H. L. Crinnell, Union, clerk.

Miss Avon, owned by John Metcalf of Augusta, was a handy winner in the 225 class, although the Islesboro horse, Edmund, was never far behind.

It was the 224 class which stirred things to an unusual degree of excitement. Local sentiment was very strong in favor of the bay stallion Pilot Nelson, owned and driven by W. E. Perry of Union, and the crowd did not take kindly to the alleged interference of Mercy C's driver in the second heat.

Mercy C came under the wire a fraction ahead in that heat, and there was a murmur of disapproval when Starter Simmons announced that Pilot Nelson had won the heat. The murmur changed to applause, however, when he announced that Mercy C had been placed in second position for close driving. Pilot Nelson won the race in straight heats. (This handsome animal) was sired by Nelson. The dam was Nancy Pilot, by Black Pilot.

THURSDAY'S EVENTS.
 The attendance Thursday was not nearly as large as on the previous day, yet it was "fine business," and Secretary Grinnell informed The Courier-Gazette that the Association hoped to be able to wipe out all indebtedness and begin upon much needed improvements.

The races went in straight heats, but were contested for all that. First money in the 230 class went to Mercy C, owned by A. Richardson, Jr. of Clinton, and first money in the 223 class was drawn by S. T. Stille's Augusta mare, Sylvia Swift. The summaries:

THOMASTON

In announcing the death in our last issue of the death of the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Studley a mistake was made in the name. It was Lewis Studley, aged 14 years, and not Percy, as reported.

Mrs. Abbie Bradford and Mrs. Lizelle Woodcock proved themselves most admirable hostesses Sept. 22, in the line of entertaining Fales Circle. Somewhat out of the ordinary was the dinner served in a tent upon the lawn of the former. The tables were made especially attractive by the very pretty plate souvenirs. Taking into consideration that the guest list included 40 and that the appetite of each was at its best, the strange but true, so much food was reserved that a goodly number remained for a second serving.

Invitations have been received for the wedding of Ida Ella Singer to Maurice Cleveland Orleton, to take place Oct. 7, at the home of the bride on Main street.

Retta Creamer, who has been visiting relatives in Barre, Vt., and Nashua, N. H., for the past month, arrived home Wednesday. She will resume her duties at The Courier-Gazette office Monday.

Edith Sampson, who has been in Portland for several days, returned home Tuesday.

Capt. and Mrs. Frank Watts are visiting in Union, guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Alden.

Mrs. E. D. Daniels left Monday for Boston and New York to buy her fall and winter millinery and get ideas of the very latest and most exclusive styles. Look for her opening early in October.

Don't forget "Lady Windermere's Fan" at Farwell opera house, Monday evening, the 28th. Tickets, which are now on sale at the box office, are 50c.

Edgar P. Cousins completed his examinations successfully Monday and Tuesday for admission to Bowdoin College and is entering upon his studies in that institution.

Albert T. Gould, who recently returned from Labrador, where he was secretary to the noted missionary, Dr. W. T. Grenfell for the summer, will give an address on his experience at a union service of the churches of the Thomaston to be held at the Congregational church next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

The date for the annual fair of the sons of Melzah H. Studley, who was buried this week. In the absence of Rev. Mr. Woodman, services were conducted by Rev. E. M. Cousins with a prayer by the Rev. A. E. Morris. The teachers and scholars of the 8th and 9th grades were present in a body and six of Lewis' classmates acted as bearers, while the girls of the class were flower-bearers.

The date for the annual fair of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church has been set for Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 2 and 3.

A large number from here attended the North Knox fair in Union.

Fales Circle G. A. R. were guests of Mrs. Abbie Bradford at her home on Georges street Tuesday of this week. A picnic dinner was served at noon to which 36 sat down. The chief dishes of the dinner were a famous fish chowder and succotash. The afternoon was passed in a social way.

Maj. J. H. Hewett received a telegram Tuesday announcing the death of John Rose, which took place in San Francisco, Cal. No particulars have been received. Mr. Rose was a former resident of this town and a brother of the late Daniel P. Rose. He is survived by one daughter, Harriet Rose, of Dorchester, Mass.

Mrs. Tillie Butler and three children of South America are in town, guests of Mrs. Butler's sister, Mrs. S. J. Jacobs, Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dunbar are spending a week with relatives in Belfast.

Edward O'Brien, R. F. D. carrier, is enjoying a 15 days' leave of absence from his duties. Charles Wyllie is acting as carrier.

Dr. Henry L. Elliot, who has been in town for a few days, has returned to his home in Salem, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moore, Christine Moore and S. Emerson Smith left today for a three weeks' stay in Boston and the Provinces.

Eva Kallach has returned from Sanford where she has been visiting friends.

The Class '09, T. H. S., will have a sale of ice cream and candy at Mrs. Whitney's rooms on Main street, Saturday afternoon.

Miss Martha Jones left today for Somerville, Mass., where she will spend three weeks as guest of her sister.

Children teething often suffer from Cholera Infantum, Diarrhoea or some form of Bowel Complaint. Dr. Seth Arnold's Balsam is the best remedy. Warranted by the G. I. Robinson Drug Co. of Thomaston.

Absolutely but one guaranteed cure for indigestion with all its discomfort. Miona tablets—50c a box if they cure—nothing if they fail, because you can get your money back. Sold by G. I. Robinson Drug Co. of Thomaston.
